8. If you would like to get email notifications about featured announcements check the square.
    a. NOTE: This is optional not required.

9. Another part to confirm your profile is to pick a blogger profile or display name. This is not the title of your blog but the name you will be seen as on blogger.com. Enter the name (See next page).

(See step 9)

Confirm Your Profile

The profile that readers will see when they view your posts is shown below. Using a Google+ Profile gives you an identity on Google properties and connects you with your readers, allowing them to share and recommend your content on the web and on Google+. If you want to use another identity such as a pseudonym, you may choose a limited Blogger Profile instead. More information about profiles on Blogger.

Create blog!   Cancel

17. Once you hit create blog it will take you back to this page with your new blog added (See next page).
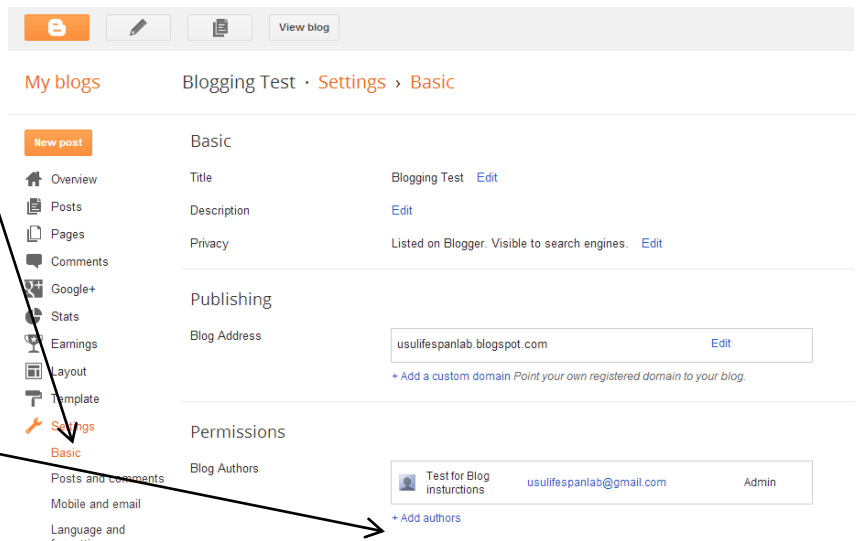

18. If you click on your blog it will take you to your home page for that blog which looks like this…

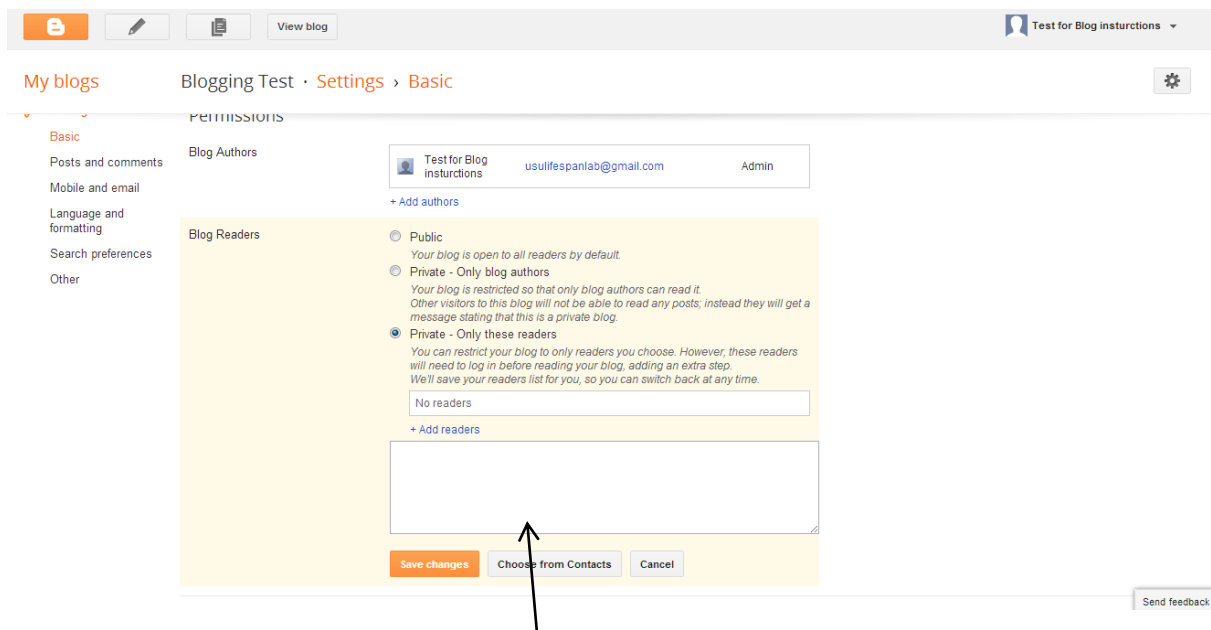

19. One last step before you can start and that is having two authors so you both can post at the same time. While on your blogs homepage click on settings.

20. Once you have clicked on the settings tab make sure you have selected the "Basic".

21. Under permission you are able to add additional authors. Do this by clicking "Add authors" and insert the email address of your Grandparent or Grandchild.

22. Are you worried about the privacy of your blog? No need to worry. In the settings basic which you are in click on "Blog Readers". It will look like the screen on the next page.

23. You can then pick if you want the blog public, private – only blog authors, or private – only these readers. We would recommend doing the private setting private – only these readers. Click on add readers and add the email: usulifespanlab@gmail.com so that we can view what you are posting.
